Legacy Giving Sunday, November 15th, 2026

The 25th Sunday after Pentecost

Minister: The Reverend Marianne Emig Carr

Director of Music: Kathleen Howard

Reader: Karen Mahon

Welcome to worship!
Just a few informational notes.

* ACCESSIBLE WASHROOM FACILITIES for all people are available on the Sanctuary level. These washrooms are found through the doors behind the Choir Loft - right turn - straight ahead. Please feel free to use these washrooms whenever necessary!

* CHILDREN'S MINISTRY – The children are invited to join Denise Kent (Church School Coordinator) and Max Chapman (Church School Assistant) for a time of fun, games, and faith-centered activities following the Children & Youth message this morning.

* HEARING IN THE SANCTUARY - First Church has available a system of FM RECEIVERS and HEADSETS. They are for use by those who find it difficult to hear in the Sanctuary. If you would like to use one this morning, please speak with our Sound Technician.

* COFFEE HOUR – You are invited to join us for coffee and fellowship in the Church Hall this morning, following worship. To access the Hall, go through the doors behind the choir loft (or use the lift) and down the stairs. Just follow your nose to delicious treats and stimulating conversation. To volunteer to host, bake, or bring food to any coffee hour sign the sheet in the Church Hall or call Tamara Chapman.

* PLEASE NOTE – DO YOU HAVE QUESTIONS? If you do, the Greeters are the appropriate people to go to for ALL questions and assistance with the elevator, water, washrooms, bulletins, etc.

Welcome & Announcements

Call to Worship God:

Minister: Let us praise the God of Truth!

People: Hallelujah! We seek God's truth.

Minister: Let us praise the God of Peace!

People: Hallelujah! We seek God's peace.

Minister: Let us praise the God of Love!

People: Hallelujah! In Christ we know God's love and so we offer our praise!

Opening Hymn # 784: Thy kingdom come – on bended knee

Words & Music: Public domain

1. Thy kingdom come - on bended knee
the passing ages pray, and faithful souls have yearned to see on earth that kingdom's day.

2. But the slow watches of the night not less to God belong, and for the everlasting right
the silent stars are strong.

3. And lo, already on the hills
the flags of dawn appear;
gird up your loins, O prophet souls;
proclaim the day is near:

4. the day in whose clear-shining light
all wrong shall stand revealed, when justice shall be clothed with might,
and every hurt be healed,

5. when knowledge, hand in hand with peace, shall walk the earth abroad,

the day of perfect righteousness,
the promised day of God.

Prayer as We Approach God:

Minister: Let us praise the God of Truth!

People: Hallelujah! We seek God's truth.

Minister: Let us praise the God of Peace!

People: Hallelujah! We seek God's peace.

Minister: Let us praise the God of Love!

People: Hallelujah! In Christ we know God's love and so we offer our praise! Through our prayers and our praise, strengthen our trust in your promised future, O God, Creator, Redeemer and Sustainer of all life. Amen.

Chancel Choir Introit: God Is There Jay Althouse

Prayer of Confession:

Minister: God of loving kindness, hear us as we confess to you our sins:

All: Trusting God, you placed your mission in our hands and gave us gifts to accomplish amazing things in Jesus' name. We confess sometimes we have taken credit for what your love has done. Sometimes we have called our own desires your will. Sometimes we have stepped back and let others carry responsibilities. Forgive us when we have failed to honour your trust in us. Show us how to be your people and encourage us to share your love with all around us. We pray this in your merciful name. Amen.

Assurance of God's Forgiveness:

Minister: Hear the good news! Who is in a position to condemn? Only Christ – and Christ died for us; Christ rose for us; Christ reigns in power for us, and Christ prays for us. So, trust God's promise - in Jesus Christ, we are forgiven and given a new start by God's generous grace.

A Message for our Children & Youth: Planting Seeds for Tomorrow

Materials: A few sunflower or bean seeds, a small pot of soil, and a picture of a large tree.
Now, here is a question. If I plant one of these seeds today, will I have a big plant by tomorrow? No! Of course not. It takes time for a seed to grow. We need to plant it in good soil, give it water and sunlight, and be patient.

And sometimes, if we plant a tree, it might take years and years before it becomes big enough to give us shade or produce fruit. Here is something interesting. Sometimes people plant trees knowing that they might never get to sit under their shade. They plant them because they know that someday, someone else will enjoy them.

Today is a special Sunday in our Church. It is called Legacy Giving Sunday. That is a rather big word - legacy! A legacy is something we leave behind that makes a difference in the lives of others. Think about the people who built this church many years ago. They wanted a place where people could come to worship God, learn about Jesus, and help one another. They could not have known who would be sitting here today, but they helped make it possible for us to be here. That is part of their legacy.

And here is the wonderful thing: You do not have to be a grown-up to start leaving a legacy! Every time you do something kind, every time you help someone, every time you share what you have, you are planting a little seed of God's love. Maybe you help someone who is feeling lonely. Maybe you share something with a friend. Maybe you help collect food for people who are hungry. Those little acts of kindness can grow into something much bigger than we imagine.

The Apostle Paul tells us to "encourage one another and build each other up." That means helping people feel loved, welcomed, and important. And just like planting a seed, we might not always see what happens because of the kindness we share. But God can take the little things we do and help them grow into something wonderful.

So, here is something to remember: Even the smallest act of love can grow into something beautiful. And that is a legacy worth leaving!

A Message for our Children & Youth: Loving God, thank you for all the people who have shared your love with us. Help us to plant seeds of kindness, generosity, and hope every day. May the love we share continue to grow and bless others, today and in the years to come. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Hymn # 393: I'm not ashamed to own my Lord

Tune: Azmon Words and Music: Public Domain

1. I'm not ashamed to own my Lord, or to defend his cause,
maintain the glory of his cross,
and honour all his laws.

2. Jesus, my Lord! I know his name;
his name is all my boast;
nor will he put my soul to shame,
nor let my hope be lost.

3. I know that safe with him remains,
protected by his power,
what I've committed to his trust
till the decisive hour.

4. Then will he own his servant's name before his Father's face, and in the new Jerusalem
appoint my soul a place.

to hear God's word….

Prayer for Insight and Understanding:

Karen: God of the generations, the Scriptures are a legacy to us from your faithful people over many centuries. Just as your Spirit inspired poets and prophets, evangelists and epistle writers, and guided their translators again and again, send your same Spirit to inspire our understanding of your Word and our response to live by its wisdom, for the sake of Christ, your Living Word. Amen.

Psalm 90: 1-12 (read responsively)

Karen: Lord, you have been our dwelling place in all generations.

People: Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever you had formed the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting you are God.

Karen: You turn us back to dust, and say, "Turn back, you mortals."

People: For a thousand years in your sight are like yesterday when it is past, or like a watch in the night.

Karen: You sweep them away; they are like a dream, like grass that is renewed in the morning.

People: in the morning it flourishes and is renewed; in the evening it fades and withers.

Karen: For we are consumed by your anger;

People: by your wrath we are overwhelmed.

Karen: You have set our iniquities before you,

People: our secret sins in the light of your countenance.

Karen: For all our days pass away under your wrath;

People: our years come to an end like a sigh.

Karen: The days of our life are seventy years, or perhaps eighty, if we are strong;

People: even then their span is only toil and trouble; they are soon gone, and we fly away.

Karen: Who considers the power of your anger?

People: Your wrath is as great as the fear that we owe you. So teach us to count our days that we may gain a wise heart.

Karen: The Day of the Lord

Now, brothers and sisters, about times and dates we do not need to write to you, for you know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. While people are saying, "Peace and safety," destruction will come on them suddenly, as labour pains on a pregnant woman, and they will not escape.

But you, brothers and sisters, are not in darkness so that this day should surprise you like a thief. You are all children of the light and children of the day. We do not belong to the night or to the darkness. So then, let us not be like others, who are asleep, but let us be awake and sober. For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, get drunk at night. But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, putting on faith and love as a breastplate, and the hope of salvation as a helmet. For God did not appoint us to suffer wrath but to receive salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. He died for us so that, whether we are awake or asleep, we may live together with him. Therefore, encourage one another and build each other up, just as in fact you are doing.

Karen: For the word of God in scripture, for the word of God within us, and for the word of God around us.

People: Thanks be to God.

The Chancel Choir Anthem: I Surrender, Lord Cindy Ovokaitys & Mark Austin

The Message: What We Leave Behind

There is an old saying that we do not inherit the earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children. Whether we are thinking about the environment, our communities, or the Church, it reminds us that what we do today matters for those who come after us. Today, the Presbyterian Church in Canada invites us to reflect on Legacy Giving. That might sound like a Sunday devoted to wills, estates, and financial planning. Certainly, those are part of the conversation, but legacy giving is about something bigger. It invites us to consider what we are leaving behind - not simply possessions, but faith, hope, love, and the difference our lives have made.

Psalm 90, traditionally attributed to Moses, begins with a wonderful affirmation: "Lord, you have been our dwelling place throughout all generations." Before there were church buildings or congregations, there was God. Before any of us were born, God was present. And long after we are gone, God will continue to be present. The psalmist reminds us that human life is fleeting. Generations come and go, and even the longest life is but a moment in God's eternal presence. That might sound gloomy! But the psalmist invites us to recognize the preciousness of the time we have been given.

In verse 12, we hear this prayer: "Teach us to number our days, that we may gain a heart of wisdom." The prayer is not for more days, but for wisdom - to recognize that our time is a gift and to use it well. And that is where the conversation about legacy begins. What are we doing with the days we have been given? How are we using our gifts and opportunities to make a difference? When we think about those who have shaped our lives, we seldom remember them primarily for their possessions. We remember their kindness, generosity, courage, and faithfulness.

Perhaps it was a grandparent who taught us to pray. A Sunday School teacher who made us feel welcome. An elder who quietly visited someone who was lonely, someone who faithfully supported the Church through difficult times. These are the legacies that shape us, often left by people who never realized how much of a difference they made.

In his first letter to the Thessalonians, Paul offers another perspective. The early Christians were anxious about the future. They wondered when Christ would return, and what would happen to those who had already died. Paul reminds them that no one knows the day or hour. Rather than becoming preoccupied with predicting the future, they are called to live faithfully in the present. He writes, "You are all children of the light and children of the day." We belong to Christ, whose love and grace illuminate even the darkest places in our world. And because we belong to the light, we are called to live differently. Paul encourages the Thessalonians to put on faith and love as a breastplate, and the hope of salvation as a helmet. Faith. Love. Hope. These are not simply things we believe. They shape our decisions, our actions, and the legacy we leave.

Think about our own congregation at First Church. Generations before us, people gathered in faith. They built this place of worship, established ministries, taught children, supported neighbours, and shared the Good News of Jesus Christ. They could not have imagined every challenge the Church would face. But they believed their faithfulness mattered - not just for themselves, but for those who would follow. We are the beneficiaries of their faithfulness.

And this past week, as we marked Remembrance Day, we remembered another kind of legacy: those who served and sacrificed, and those who continue to serve, in defence of our freedoms. Their courage and commitment remind us that the blessings we enjoy often come through the sacrifices of others. We honour their legacy not simply through remembrance, but through our own commitment to justice, dignity, and peace for future generations.

Now, in our own time, we have been entrusted with that same responsibility. Legacy Giving Sunday reminds us that Christian stewardship extends beyond our weekly offerings. It includes considering how the resources entrusted to us might continue serving God's purposes after we are no longer here. For some, that might mean remembering this congregation, Presbyterians Sharing, Presbyterian World Service & Development, or another ministry in their will.

But legacy giving is not measured by the size of a gift. Jesus noticed the widow who gave two small coins, reminding us that generosity cannot be measured simply by dollar amounts. And not everyone has financial resources to leave behind. Yet everyone has something to give. We can leave a legacy of compassion by caring for our neighbours; a legacy of justice by speaking up for those whose voices are ignored; a legacy of faith by sharing God's love with children and young people. We can leave a legacy of welcome by ensuring our churches are places where people find belonging, dignity, and hope.

Our world faces tremendous uncertainty. Wars, poverty, hunger, and homelessness continue to affect countless lives. The Church itself faces questions about its future. It would be easy to wonder whether our efforts make a difference. But Paul's words speak directly to us: "Therefore encourage one another and build each other up, just as in fact you are doing." Paul does not tell the Thessalonians to withdraw because the future is uncertain. He tells them to keep building one another up.

And that is our calling, too. We may not know what the Church will look like fifty or a hundred years from now, or how the seeds we plant today will grow. But we can trust that God will continue working through the faithfulness and generosity of God's people. Psalm 90 reminds us that God has been our dwelling place throughout all generations. The future of the Church does not rest entirely on our shoulders, but in the hands of our faithful God. Our responsibility is to be faithful with what we have been given, for as long as we have been given it. So perhaps the question for Legacy Giving Sunday is not simply, "What will I leave behind?" Perhaps the better question is, "What am I building today that will continue to reflect God's love tomorrow?" "Teach us to number our days, that we may gain a heart of wisdom." May God give us that wisdom, so that what we leave behind - through our faith, generosity, and love - will continue to shine as a light for generations to come. Amen.

Blessing the Word in our Lives:

Minister: God of all things, bless us with eyes to help us to see your vision and the tools you give us to bring that vision to life. Give us courage and faith to be stewards for all peoples, in all places and to continue to build your beloved community in this time and space. Amen.

Hymn # 645: Follow me, the Master said Words & Music: Public domain

1. 'Follow me,' the Master said:
we will follow Jesus.
By his word and Spirit led,
we will follow Jesus.
Still for us he lives to plead,
at the throne will intercede, offers help in time of need;
we will follow Jesus.

2. Should the world and sin oppose,
we will follow Jesus.
He is greater than our foes;
we will follow Jesus.
On his promise we depend;
he will hear us and defend,
help and keep us to the end;
we will follow Jesus.

3. Though the way may dark appear,
we will follow Jesus.
He will make our pathway clear;
we will follow Jesus.
In our daily round of care,
as we plead with God in prayer,
with the cross which we must bear,
we will follow Jesus.

4. Ever keep that end in view;
we will follow Jesus.
All his promises are true;
we will follow Jesus.
When this earthly course is run,
and the Master says, 'Well done!'
life eternal we have won;
we will follow Jesus.

Responding in love with thanksgiving

Prayers of the People, the Lord's Prayer and Choral Amen

Minister: God of all life and each life, we thank you that you are with us every day, in each challenge and opportunity. In our weakness, you are strength. In our confusion, you light the path ahead. In our questions, you offer wisdom for our choices. Stay with us in these days when so much seems uncertain, and help us to serve you faithfully, when and as we are able. God of our past, present and future,

People: hear our prayer.

Minister: God of loving kindness: thank you for each moment of joy and celebration in our lives: for love given and received, for friendships that bring meaning and happiness, and for family members who show us glimpses of unconditional love. In all our relationships and interactions, keep us mindful of your call to see you in one another. God of our past, present and future,

People: hear our prayer.

Minister: God of the nations: we worry for the world filled with conflict and division, when the earth itself is put at risk by destructive human actions. We think especially today of Gaza, Ukraine, Sudan, Democratic Republic of Congo, and Yemen. Guide diplomats and politicians to look beyond short-term interests and keep the well-being of vulnerable people and the planet in focus. Open our leaders' minds and hearts with wisdom to develop more equitable ways of ordering our common life. God of our past, present and future,

People: hear our prayer.

Minister: God of healing: we pray for those who are suffering in these days when winter is closing in. Draw close to all who fear the future. Comfort those who experience pain or problems that seem overwhelming. Shine the light of your love into our sadness and sorrows and show us how to comfort and support each other. God of our past, present and future,

People: hear our prayer.

Minister: God of life: we thank you for your saints of every age who continue to inspire us, and for all who have meant the world to us and now live with you. Keep us in communion with them and, at the last, bring us all to dwell together in your light. And now we pray with them in the words that Jesus taught us, saying:

All: Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever and ever. Amen.

The People's Offering for the Work of Christ's Church

Invitation to the Offering:

Minister: God of the generations, the Scriptures are a legacy to us from your faithful people over many centuries. Just as your Spirit inspired poets and prophets, evangelists and epistle writers, and guided their translators again and again, send your same Spirit to inspire our understanding of your Word and our response to live by its wisdom, for the sake of Christ, your Living Word.

Offering Praise Song:

Praise God from whom all blessings flow.
Praise him, all creatures here below.
Praise him above, ye heavenly host.
Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

Prayer of Dedication:

Minister: Faithful God, we offer humble thanks today for your generosity to us through the Church that bears Christ's name. Receive our gifts as tokens of our love and loyalty. Use them to sustain the mission of the Church in ways we cannot yet imagine, in a future that you are creating through Christ, our Saviour and Lord. Amen.

Sending Hymn # 663: God, whose giving knows no ending Words: Robert L. Edwards

© 1961. 1989 Hope Publishing Company CCLI License # 20312607/2031261 Music: Public Domain

1. God, whose giving knows no ending, from your rich and endless store,
nature's wonder, Jesus' wisdom,
costly cross, grave's shattered door:
gifted by you, we turn to you,
offering up ourselves in praise;
thankful song shall rise forever,
gracious donor of our days.

2. Skills and time are ours for pressing toward the goals of Christ, your Son:
all at peace in health and freedom, races joined, the church made one.

Now direct our daily labour,
lest we strive for self alone;
born with talents, make us servants fit to answer at your throne.

3. Treasure too, you have entrusted, gain through powers your Grace conferred.
Ours to use for home and kindred,
and to spread the gospel word.
Open wide our hands in sharing,
as we heed Christ's ageless call,
healing, teaching, and reclaiming,
serving you by loving all.

The Benediction:

Minister: Be a kingdom builder this week. Find a way to offer your time and talent to a project worthy of God's hope for the world God loves! And may the blessing of God, Creator, Christ and Holy Spirit fill you and overflow through you, to touch others with God's renewing love, now and forever! Amen.

"Our hope and passion for the future of the PCC can lie in international partnerships!" Supported by gifts to Presbyterians Sharing, 24-year-old Sophia Kim had the opportunity of a lifetime to work in Japan as a Young Adult Intern for the Korean Christian Church in Japan (KCCJ). While there, she heard many stories of adversity and courage told by Korean-Japanese Christians. Overwhelming gratitude was expressed by the KCCJ for the PCC's mission work in Japan, and continued support. The PCC and KCCJ are approaching the 100th anniversary of their partnership in 2027. A Mission Moment from The PCC
