

The Voice of the Holy Spirit

*They came from near, they came from far
They came however from wherever they are
Strong winds blew when they all came
Tongues of fire, flashes of flame
They came from the north; they came from the south
Many languages were spoken out of everyone's mouth.
Each one was different and unique
But all heard the Spirit speak.
What does this day Pentecost really mean?
God through the Spirit was felt and seen.
Holy Spirit, through us, say
To the church "Happy Birthday."
The voice of the Spirit is so true
To be a guide and give to you,
Speaking not on its own
But rather what is heard and shown
The Spirit tells you what life will do
What it receives from me will be shown to you.*

*God O' God, I'm devoted to you.
Go up on the mount way up tall
I will pass, and you will hear my call
Powerful winds blew and trees did shake
To the ground rocks fell, and the earth did quake
Then the flames flew aloft,
But Elijah heard through a whisper soft
Only then did Elijah hear
The whispered voice that God is near.
On the way to Jerusalem,
Jesus said to follow him.
Follow me and do not wait
If you want to enter heaven's gate.
But we're not foxes nor not birds
And we should follow the Son of Man's true words.
Suppose he says to you.
"Follow me," what do you do?
Would you follow Jesus' command?
And show to others where you stand?*

Elijah, O' Elijah, what do you do?
